

Call for Applications:
Full-time Faculty Position in Political Science (open rank)

School of Political Science
Faculty of Social Sciences and History
Diego Portales University

- The Faculty of Social Science and History and the School of Political Science at the Universidad Diego Portales announce a call for two Assistant, Associate or Full Professors in Political Science. The term of appointment begins, if possible, on March 1st, 2024. We welcome applications from all subfields in political science and related areas (such as Political Economy and Public Policy), but preference will be given to International Relations. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and postgraduate courses and will be affiliated with the Social Science Research Institute (ICSO).

Successful candidates must:

- Have a Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, Political Economy, Public Policy, or a closely related discipline at the time of the appointment.
- Spanish language proficiency.
- Contribute to the School's course offerings.
- Carry out independent research and regularly publish in highly rated international outlets.
- Participate in school initiatives and collaborate with the interdisciplinary profile of the undergraduate program.

Universidad Diego Portales is an equal opportunity employer and values geographical and gender diversity, thus encouraging applications from women and/or other underrepresented groups. In case you require any adjustments to participate in the interview process, let the committee know by emailing claudia.pozo@udp.cl

How to apply:

Please submit the following:

- Ph.D. Diploma or Certificate that the candidate will have completed the Ph.D. at the time of the appointment.
- Letter explaining the motives and a broad teaching and research statement.
- Teaching evaluations (in case you have them)

- Two publication samples from the last five years. For women who have had children in the last five years, an additional year will be considered per child.
- Current CV with at least two referees who can be contacted through the application process.

Please send your complete application by November 30, 2023, at 6 PM (Chilean time) to Claudia Pozo (claudia.pozo@udp.cl) with the subject: "concurso ciencia política". Those who are selected for the next step will be called for an interview and a job talk. The Faculty retains the right to not select any candidates if it so decides. Only complete applications will be considered.

Selection process:

1. The search committee will review the applications for the requirements.
2. Interview with the Search Committee, presenting (briefly) the candidate's research.
3. Offer and notice to selected candidate.

The position will begin by March 1st, 2024. Flexibility can be discussed.
